Chapter 3 by R

sticks and stones will build you up in pretty houses and safety sheltering you and all you love from the injury of everything but words

oh words, they are the rain cutting down like knives and no shelter made of sticks or stone could ever help you survive

Chapter 5 by The quail overlord!!!!!!

Sticks and stones may break my bones but words can also hurt me sticks and stones break only skin while words are ghosts that haunt me Pain from words has left its scar on mind and heart that's tender cuts and bruises now have healed its words that I remember

Chapter 6 by Cat4055

Sticks and stones... I guess I could make a tomahawk with that, and words will bounce right off me, hit a lamppost, run into a cat, and bounce around the outer rim of a basketball hoop before finally falling in and I will win the basketball game against you, while dancing around you taunting you in the worst way possible, with my tomahawk made from sticks and stones. I think I got a little off track while writing this.

Chapter 7 by F E L I P O N C I O

But what happens when someone slams a dictionary in your face?

Chapter 8 by Nashyla Cameron

Sticks and stones. The one thing that can build a person up or tear them apart. You built me up with your sticks just have a place to aim your stones. I trusted you with all of myself, just to watch you throw it away. Now I am cold hearted and its your fault. Sadness and loneliness are all that comes to mind, and it is because of you. So always beware and keep caution when playing with sticks and stones.
